Daniel Zammit

Chief Executive of Dacorum Borough Council

Daniel Zammit has worked in local government for over 20 years. Prior to his appointment as Chief Executive of Dacorum Borough Council in January 2004, he was Director of Environment and Regeneration for the London Borough of Redbridge, where he led a £450m town centre regeneration scheme. This scheme won the inaugural London Planning Awards for 'Best conceptual project contributing to London's future'. He is now heading a £340m regeneration plan for Hemel Hempstead town centre. He led Dacorum Borough Council's strategic response to the Buncefield / Maylands incident and has since coordinated the Council's recovery and regeneration plans for Maylands.
